

Jeremy Crow
MBA, PMP
Senior Manager

Jeremy serves as a Senior Manager in Information Systems and Technology Consulting, providing support for home care and hospice organizations for system evaluation, review and optimization, vendor review, and operational review and design.

A resident of Missouri, Jeremy has more than 15 years of experience as a senior software executive and is PMP-Certified by the Project Management Institute.

Jeremy brings extensive expertise to Simione in the areas of project and program management. His previous roles include Senior Vice President of Professional Services at Complia Health, Vice President of Customer Care at Healthland, and Vice President of Customer Services at McKesson, where he gained 13 years of progressive leadership experience in sales, service integration and implementation, training and consulting.

Jeremy holds an MBA from Washington University, St. Louis.