

William J. Simione, Jr.
FHHC
Founding Member

William J. Simione, Jr. is a Founding Member of Simione Healthcare Consultants. Bill has provided the home care and hospice industry with expert guidance and support for more than forty years.

In addition to providing consulting services ranging from financial analysis to corporate strategic planning, Bill is a member of the National Association of Home Care and Hospice (NAHC) Board of Directors, Legislative Action Committee, Universal Advocacy Advisory Board, Annual Meeting Committee, Prospective Payment System and Managed Care Task Force. He currently serves as chairperson of the Home Health Financial Managers Association (HHFMA) and the Home Health & Hospice Political Action Committee. He was appointed as a fellow for NAHC's Foundation for Hospice and Home Care. He was also the past Chairperson of a Focus Group for Reimbursement for Health Care Reform.

Bill has conducted workshops and seminars across the country for the American Hospital Association, NAHC, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, National Health Care Lawyers Association, American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and numerous state associations.

Bill's service to the greater health care community includes Chairperson of the Board of Gaylord Specialty Healthcare, a nationally renowned, not-for-profit, long-term acute care hospital that specializes in rehabilitation, sleep medicine and the care and treatment of medically complex patients. Bill has also served on the boards of two publicly traded companies and their Audit & Special Committees. He is on the courtesy faculty of Yale University's School of Nursing Graduate Program. Bill is a graduate of Boston College.
